

Musical Legends on Stamps

by John F. Dunn

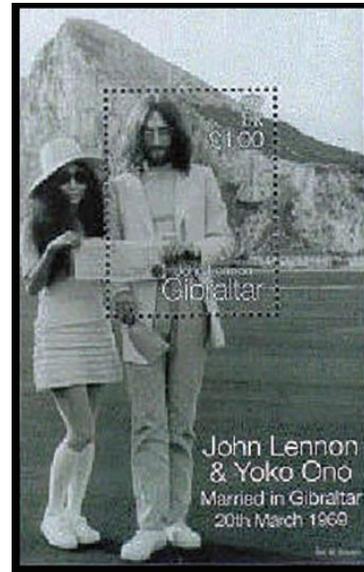

The recent release of by Great Britain honoring Paul McCartney and his music is but one of numerous issues around which collectors can build a Contemporary Music Artists collection. In building such a collection, there is no better place to start than at the website of the Inter-Governmental Philatelic Corporation of New York, where you can choose from hundreds of stamps and miniature sheets from scores of nations, including new issues as well as others going back more than 20 years.

Shown here is a sampling of the issues. For other Music issues including contemporary as well as Classical artists and a wide variety of other topics, go to www.igpc.com.
